Religious Tour

(11 Nights /12 Days)

Every home in Rajasthan has its own Deities. Every village has its temples. From the vermilion daubed stones revered under the thickening trunks of ancient trees to carved temples that celebrate the spirit of ancient faith. Every faith has its Gods – whether Hindu, Islamic or Jain, in the nature of gurus or as the cosmos itself. Every one of them has a place in Rajasthan, not only tolerant of each other's religions but also participating in many events or letting faiths intermingle to create a new vocabulary for those who believe in gods and their power.
